

24/7 Managed Endpoint Security Without an In-House Team

Managed IT | Co-Managed IT | Cybersecurity

24/7 Managed Endpoint Security Without an In-House Team

How Modern Attacks Bypass Traditional Antivirus

Modern cyberattacks do not operate the way they once did. Attackers now log in using stolen credentials and rely on legitimate administrative tools already present within systems. This allows them to move quietly within an environment for days before taking action.

Traditional antivirus solutions are not designed to detect this type of activity. Even advanced detection tools require consistent monitoring to be effective.

This is the gap that solutions such as CrowdStrike Falcon Complete are designed to address. It is a fully managed security operation that includes expert analysts, AI-driven detection, and active response, operating continuously in the background of your business.

What Falcon Complete Delivers:

24/7 expert monitoring:

A dedicated team monitors your environment at all times, including nights, weekends, and holidays when attacks are more likely to occur.

AI-driven detection:

Security signals are analyzed continuously to establish a baseline of normal activity and identify subtle deviations that rule-based tools may miss.

Proactive threat hunting:

Many breaches involve attackers remaining undetected within a network. This service actively searches for indicators of compromise before damage occurs.

Immediate response and containment:

When a threat is identified, action is taken immediately. Compromised devices are isolated, malicious processes are stopped, and systems are restored.

Threat Detection Gap

According to Mandiant's M-Trends 2026 report, the global median attacker dwell time—how long a threat remains undetected—was 14 days in 2025. Proactive threat hunting helps reduce that window and limit potential impact.

A Business Benefit Beyond Protection

Many cyber insurance providers now require endpoint detection and response (EDR) or managed detection and response (MDR) coverage as a condition for issuing or renewing policies. Solutions like Falcon Complete align with these requirements and can support both insurability and renewal outcomes.

Are your endpoints being monitored after hours?

Schedule a Consultation Today